Colourful vegetable diversity full of vitamins

The trend is towards healthier nutrition on the one hand, and simple and convenient preparation on the other. We are right on target with our wide range of vegetables, because (almost) nothing works in the convenience sector without vegetables. Our vegetables are gently air-dried or freeze-dried to preserve their vitamins. This way, they retain their aroma and valuable ingredients.

Through close cooperation with the producers in the country of origin, we have a direct influence on the quality. We select, granulate, cut and blend the products according to your wishes. This means you can always have aromatic vegetables as a mono-product or as a blending - all of course in the best Brückner quality, ensured by our own production and refinement.
